

Fortnightly News Update

9 September 2022

UPDATES ON SOME PREVIOUS GOOD NEWS ITEMS

1. We have been advised that the children's books sent to Lismore have arrived safely. The local Education office is making them available to schools in the area which lost most of their supplies and equipment in the recent floods. They have asked that we pass on their thanks for the generosity of the Club and the members who donated books.

2. As reported earlier, we are replacing the carpet in the converted verandah bookroom area following water damage. Work to prevent further water incursion has taken longer and is more extensive than originally apparent. Here's hoping we are getting close to a conclusion of this marathon and the book teams can get back to work in uninterrupted comfort.

COMMUNITY NOTICES AND INFORMATION

.....Harking back to a previous global financial crisis.....

Medical Bail Out!

The US Medical Profession Speaks out on the Financial Bail-Out Package.

The allergists voted to scratch it, and the dermatologists advised not to make any rash moves.

The gastroenterologists had sort of a gut feeling about it, but the neurologists thought the administration had a lot of nerve, and the obstetricians felt they were all labouring under a misconception.

The ophthalmologists considered the idea shortsighted; the pathologists yelled, "Over my dead body!" while the paediatricians said, "Oh, Grow up!"

The psychiatrists thought the whole idea was madness, the radiologists could see right through it, and the surgeons decided to wash their hands of the whole thing.

The internists thought it was a bitter pill to swallow, and the plastic surgeons said, "This puts a whole new face on the matter."

The podiatrists thought it was a step forward, but the urologists felt the scheme wouldn't hold water. The anesthesiologists thought the whole idea was a gas; and the cardiologists didn't have the heart to say no.

In the end, the proctologists left the decision up to the assholes in government.
